

CAS Faculty Development Workshop: High-Impact Practices

February 7, 2012

The following chart lists the main activities the Association of American Colleges & Universities (AACU) designates as “High-Impact Educational Practices.”

Activity: In the space provided, identify which ones you’ve tried or participated in; jot down key features of the practice as it plays out in your course(s).

Undergraduate Research	Writing-Intensive Courses	Collaborative Assignments & Projects
Capstone Courses & Projects	Diversity / Global Learning	Service / Community-Based Learning
Learning Communities	First-Year Seminars & Experiences	Internships

For more on AAC&U initiatives, including High-Impact Educational Practices, go to <http://www.aacu.org>.