About the concert:

On Monday, July 26 2021 at 5:30 P.M. SLU Madrid's music professors Guðrún Ólafsdóttir (mezzo-soprano) and Francisco Javier Jáuregui (guitarist) along with guest artist Elena Jáuregui (violinist), as The Aglaia Trio, will perform a program of English, Scottish and Spanish songs. The concert will be carried out with social distancing in the Padre Arrupe Hall Patio, at Avenida del Valle, 34, 28003 Madrid. Duration: 45 minutes. Free entrance.

This concert takes place in collaboration with The Icelandic Government's Artist Salary Programme (Launasjóður listamanna), The Icelandic Musicians' Union Culture Fund (Menningarsjóður FÍH) and EMEC Discos.

The Aglaia Trio is a unique chamber group known for its engaging performances, vivid storytelling, original compositions and creative collaborations. Their repertoire is composed or arranged by Francisco Javier as well as a number of recognised composers such as David del Puerto, Polina Medyulyanova, Agustín Castilla-Ávila and Thóra Marteinsdóttir.

The trio has performed widely in festivals and concert halls in the United Kingdom, Spain, France, Germany, Austria and Iceland. Their CD Secretos quero descubrir (Secrets I wish to reveal) has also been broadcast on Spanish and Icelandic National Radios, among others.
