CONTINUING EDUCATION PROVIDER

Supervision Skills Refresher

Meets License Board Requirement*

Course Description

This advance level “refresher” course is designed to be taken by the supervisor who has already completed a 16-hour supervision course and is supervising licensees and who must take a 3-hour renewal course each license cycle to continue as a “qualified supervisor for licensure” in Missouri. This course reviews issues associated with the current literature pertinent to social work supervision. These may include: ethical considerations and cultural, gender or socioeconomic considerations, and challenging supervision scenarios. In addition there will be a review of the current supervision rules and small group sharing on aspects of supervision.

Presented by

Pamela J. Huggins, ACSW, LCSW is Associate Clinical Professor at the Saint Louis University School of Social Work. She worked in health care and social work sites for 15 years both as a supervisor and as a medical social worker. While in practice, she also supervised many social workers as employees, students in field instruction from 4 Schools of Social Work and social workers pursuing licensure in the State of Missouri. She has previously served on national social work test writing boards, national boards, and curriculum boards. Quality supervision for beginning social workers is a special area of interest.
